

Nicholas Pickens
Analyst, GFMS Mine Economics Limited

We are pleased to announce a new addition to our GFMS Mine Economics team. Nick Pickens has been appointed as an analyst and will help us develop our new range of multi-client mine cost studies across a range of commodities.

Nick joins GFMS Mine Economics with 7 years experience in research within the mining industry. He started his career with the mineral economics consultancy Brook Hunt in the Mine Costs team and went on to work in finance as a mining equities analyst at Canaccord Adams and most recently Liberum Capital. Nick has an undergraduate degree in Geological Science from University of Leeds and MSc in Mineral Project Appraisal from Imperial College, London.”
