

Nikos Kavalis
Senior Analyst, GFMS Limited

Nikos Kavalis joined GFMS in September 2003. After working in the precious metals division for over five years, primarily focusing on investment and official sector activity, Nikos moved to the base metals team in January 2009. He is primarily involved in GFMS' forecasting work on base metals.

Nikos holds a first degree in Econometrics and Economics from the University of York, and an MSc in Econometrics and Mathematical Economics from the London School of Economics.